EDITORIAL REVIEW

Carbon aficionados won't stand for metal water bottle cages or even worse - plastic ones so carbon fiber bottle cages have become all the rage. Serfas offers six different carbon fiber cages with the Cirque SL ($45) being its lightest. The 25-gram carbon fiber water bottle cage comes in silver, blue, red or yellow highlights to match almost any bike color scheme. The outer carbon is standard black while the inside portions of the cage use silver colored carbon for a trick two-tone look. Bottle grip is excellent thanks to its shape and rubber grommet that creates a snug fit yet still facilitates easy insertion and removal of the bottle. Even full large bottles stayed secure over rough roads and without any kind of vibration or noise. The cage comes with stainless steel mounting bolts but we'd prefer some fancy lightweight alloy fasteners that would better match the otherwise lightweight, stylish and functional cage. - Ron Koch
